The Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Authority (CERA) leads a public engagement process called Canvas where people provided their vision, ideas and comments for the future use of the red zone land in Kaiapoi, The Pines Beach and Kairaki.

July-September 2014
The Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Authority (CERA) leads a public engagement process called Canvas where people provided their vision, ideas and comments for the future use of the red zone land in Kaiapoi, The Pines Beach and Kairaki.

October 2015
WDC undertakes “Let’s Discuss” – an overview of feedback from Canvas and updated technical information on the Waimakariri red zones and invites new ideas.

February-March 2016
WDC consults for a month on its Preliminary Draft Recovery Plan

April-July 2016
Development of the Draft Recovery Plan

3 August-1 September 2016
Written comments invited on the Draft Recovery Plan

November-December 2015
WDC considers the feedback from Canvas and Let’s Discuss, and prepares a Preliminary Draft Recovery Plan

April 2016
Public hearing and submissions considered on the Preliminary Draft Recovery Plan

1 August 2016
WDC submits the Draft Recovery Plan to the Minister

15 December 2016
The Minister gazettes the Waimakariri Residential Red Zone Recovery Plan having considered the written comments, relevant advice, the requirements of the Canterbury Earthquake Recovery Act, and following amendments to the Draft Recovery Plan

2017
Implementation of the Recovery Plan begins